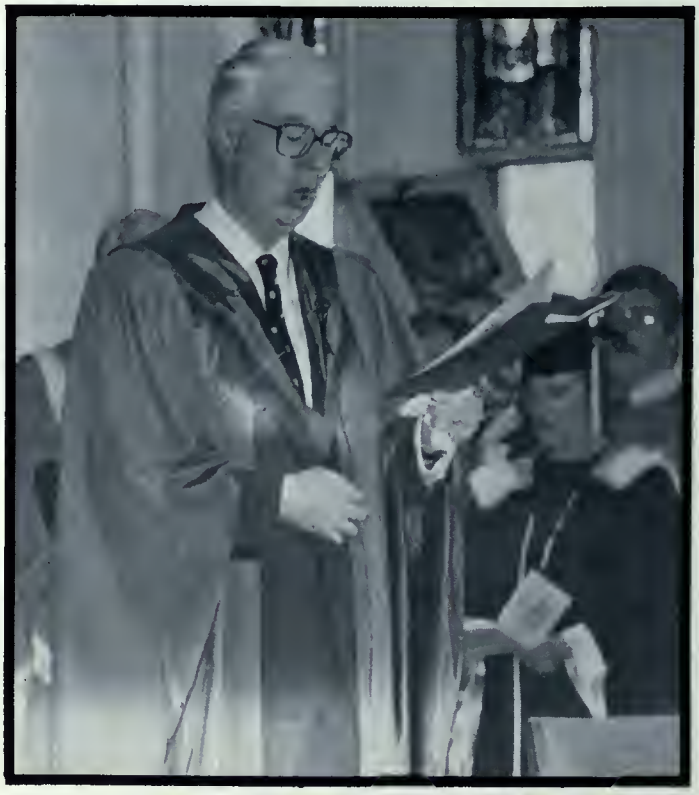
St. Michae



's College

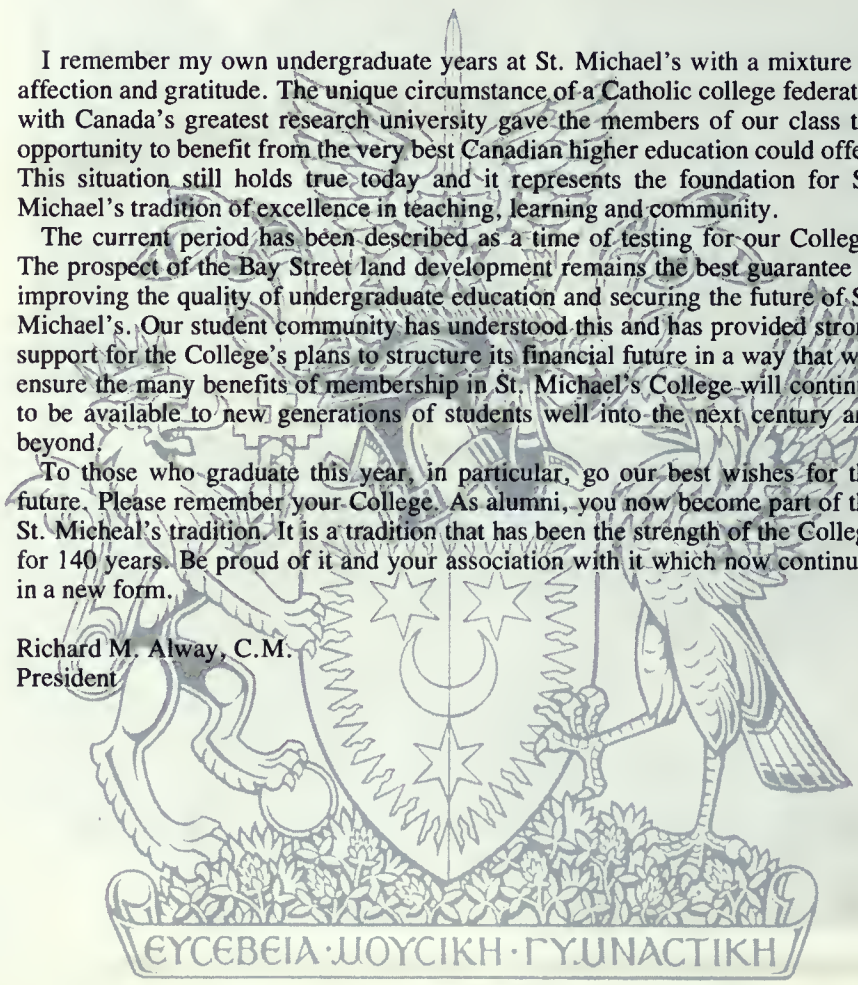
President

I remember my own undergraduate years at St. Michael's with a mixture of affection and gratitude. The unique circumstance of a Catholic college federated with Canada's greatest research university gave the members of our class the opportunity to benefit from the very best Canadian higher education could offer. This situation still holds true today and it represents the foundation for St. Michael's tradition of excellence in teaching, learning and community.

The current period has been described as a time of testing for our College. The prospect of the Bay Street land development remains the best guarantee of improving the quality of undergraduate education and securing the future of St. Michael's. Our student community has understood this and has provided strong support for the College's plans to structure its financial future in a way that will ensure the many benefits of membership in St. Michael's College will continue to be available to new generations of students well into the next century and beyond.

To those who graduate this year, in particular, go our best wishes for the future. Please remember your College. As alumni, you now become part of the St. Micheal's tradition. It is a tradition that has been the strength of the College for 140 years. Be proud of it and your association with it which now continues in a new form.

Richard M. Alway, C.M.
President



Principal

This year is not only your last undergraduate year at St. Michael's College, it is also the last year of my second term as Principal. It should be a time of looking back and, above all, a time for looking forward. Looking back at all of the many awakenings; to new ideas and insights which have helped shape your intellectual and spiritual growth and maturing - to new personal relationships with some of your classmates, with some of your professors, and, wonder of wonders, even with some members of your own families.

Looking forward: to graduate or professional studies, to a new line of work or service, perhaps to choosing a partner for life, someone to help nurture and share in your continued intellectual and spiritual development.

However you look at it, your years here at St. Michael's, exposed to all of its and the University of Toronto's resources, will play a pivotal role in your life.

This edition of the Windrose will provide you with a pictoral record of those years, and, used judiciously, will enable you to make perfect and unhesitating introductions at the many joyful homecoming weekends we hope you will attend at St. Michael's.

W.B. Dunphy
Principal

Alumni Affairs

During your years at St. Michael's and at the University of Toronto there were many "meeting places" where you gathered with classmates, faculty members and other friends to talk, debate, share a meal to study, to pray or to engage in various other activities such as journalism, creative writing, governance, singing, dramatics, athletics, or just to "hang out." It is St. Michael's hope that all these activities have enriches you and better prepared you to be an influence for good for the rest of your lives.

The Windrose will be for you, through the years to come, a "meeting place" for you; that place where you will meet in memories the classmates, faculty and other friends pictured here, and enter again those old gathering spots that came to mean so much. May this edition of The Windrose draw you back to St. Michael's in your memory, but also be an incentive to come back and meet old friends and be nourished once more by the spirit of St. Michael's.

Take a look at this yearbook. What do you see? Smiling faces, contorted bodies, exciting events, clubs, sports, SMCSU. This yearbook represents university life as it should be! That's not to say that academics isn't important. It is the main reason we're here! Heck, we bet everyone in every picture in this book spent three hours prior to having their photo taken studying at home, res., or a Kelly Library. They're all just taking breaks! Hey, this is a book full of study breaks!

But isn't that what this yearbook is for? It'll help us remember the fun we had. It'll put a lump in the throats of all graduates as they realise that there will be no more study breaks. Ah, but those memories will live on... In this book, in the stories about our times as SMC that we will tell our kids...

"Is that really you dancing on your head, Daddy?"

"Mommy, will I have as much fun when I get old?"

Students of St. Mike's, good luck in your collective future. Use all the knowledge you gained in your time here at St. Mike's to better yourself and to do better by others as well. And remember, when you are a little down, have too much work, maybe feeling a little lonely, open this book, think of the good times, and then pick up the phone and call that person beside you in that picture. Get that long distance feeling! Then, take a study break! Best of luck in life!

Pictures! Croppers? Faces! Smiles!....and another year flew by. It was an experience creating a yearbook representing St. Michael's College. I'll never forget the all-nighters with the Windrose bunch, constant deadlines, and mountains of layout sheets. I would like to thank SMCSU and the Mike for their support througout the year. I would especially like to thank the Windrose staff. A. MacDonald and M. Raso for taking all those great pictures; B. Morrison and C. Patullo for being the most wonderful layout editors; C. Brown for being the most creative photo editor; and finally S. Ahn for being the most indispensable assistant editor-in-chief.

I would also like to thank G. Yee for helping me complete the Windrose this summer.

VISION STATEMENT

To achieve a greater fulfilment of their duties of conscience as individuals to themselves and towards the various groups to which they belong, men and women have to be carefully educated to a higher degree of culture through the employment of the immense resources available today to the human race. Above all, we must undertake the training of youth from all social backgrounds if we are to produce the kind of men and women so desperately needed by our own age -- men and women not only of high culture but of great personality as well.

The "Graduate's Choice"

National Grocers is at the heart of one of Canada's most successful grocery retail and wholesale organizations ... an organization that is recognized by many as the leader in bringing unique and innovative products to the marketplace. Our sensitivity to the changing dynamics of the marketplace has made us visibly the most successful food wholesaler/retailer in Ontario.

As a consumer, you notice our numerous distinctive store formats, but what you do not see are the behind the scenes state-of-the-art technology ... the efficient and sophisticated distribution system ... innovative merchandising techniques and fully computerized accounting departments. To retain our position as the market leader and meet the challenges of the 90's, we will require fresh ideas and imaginative minds.

Where will the 90's take us? To greater levels of success! To join our proactive team, please send credentials, quoting File# MBA1990, in confidence, to: Director of Human Resources, National Grocers, 6 Monogram Place, Weston, Ontario M9R 4C4

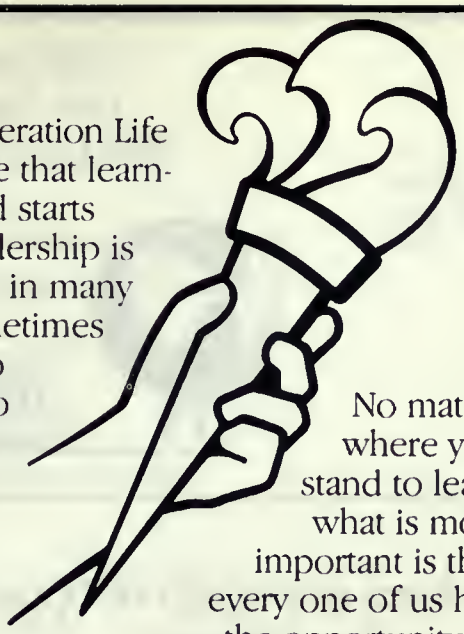
At Confederation Life we believe that learning to lead starts early. Leadership is expressed in many ways. Sometimes those who follow also lead from behind.



No matter where you stand to lead, what is most important is that every one of us has the opportunity to make life a little better for everyone else.

"When you are graduating, you need to open doors for yourself. Choose the right key: Peat Marwick Thorne."

ANNE MARIE NAYLOR
B.Comm., CA 1988

"I know it's a tough decision. You've heard that public accounting is a great choice for a business career, but how do you know which firm suits you best?"

"When you interview with Peat Marwick Thorne, it will quickly become apparent that here is a firm that makes a real commitment to the people it hires."

"They emphasize high-quality training, offer a wide choice of career paths, and provide individualized counselling to help you achieve success."

Peat Marwick Thorne is Canada's largest professional services organization and a member firm of KPMG, a leading world-wide public accounting and management consulting firm. With more than 6,000 partners and staff in over 60 offices across Canada, we serve over 30,000 clients in every sector of the economy.
